30-Second Mysteries

WHAT

Case #9

The Case

Wilma is working diligently in a lab when she gets a tremendous urge for a cigarette. There aren't any "No Smoking" signs posted, and the chemicals she is working with pose no real fire hazard. As soon as Wilma strikes a match, her boss fires her for destroying his work.

The Mystery

In what kind of lab did Wilma work and what is her ex-boss' profession?

Clues

Wilma is completing a specialized task.

Wilma sometimes wears gloves.

The destroyed work cannot be replaced.

Wilma's lab deals more with paper samples than blood samples.

Much of the work in the lab takes place in dim light.

Wilma's former boss is involved in the arts and has a trained eye.

September's answer to the 30-second mystery is - Buzz Aldrin is an astronaut - and the first person to play golf on the moon.

Congratulations to the September's winner - Sharon Kapuscak
